0:00-0:04 - Medium-wide shot inside the Dunder Mifflin office. Michael Scott walks in with open arms and an enormous forced smile, guiding a completely expressionless Kim Jong Un in his black suit. Michael enthusiastically says: "Welcome, my good friend, to the greatest paper company on Earth!"

0:04-0:08 - Michael points around the office with wild hand gestures: "This is Jim's desk, that's Pam's, and over there is Dwight's weird little kingdom..." Kim just stares in absolute silence, eyes narrowing slightly.

0:08-0:12 - Michael leans in way too close, still smiling awkwardly: "And this conference room... this is where I once declared bankruptcy. Classic Michael moment!" He laughs alone. Kim remains completely still.

0:12-0:15 - Michael, completely misreading the silence, suddenly goes for a big enthusiastic hug. Kim's face fills with pure cold rage, eyes locked on Michael like a death sentence. The video ends abruptly on Kim's terrifying stare while Michael freezes mid-hug.
